

Wrongdoings	What we should do instead
Being materialistic and promoting the throw-away culture	We should only buy essential things such as food, water, and simple clothing, among others in order to produce less waste
Employing people and neglecting their rights	We should respect other people's rights because we have the same rights
Disrespecting and discriminating people who are older, poorer and have different skin colors	We should always respect people regardless of their ethnicity, skin color, age and social status
Failure to become a Good Samaritan for our brothers and sisters who are in need	We should help people in need because it is part of our mission
Abandoning our social duties which includes taking care of the environment	We should emphasize the need to look after the environment in schools
Denying the people the right to consume resources that they cannot afford	We should be considerate and compassionate; those goods belong to them as much as they belong to us
Promoting the law of force	We must promote the force of law
Desiring revenge and siding with evil	We should learn how to forgive
Starting wars and using nuclear weapons to eliminate millions of people	We should stop attacking one another; we should utilize our resources and our knowledge for the common good
Promoting death penalty	We should honor the sanctity of life especially since it is not ours to take
Lack of respect for people who have different religions	We should respect people and their religions because it is their prerogative

1. What is the message of Fratelli Tutti to us?

Pope Francis reminds us that we, humans, have rights; and that just because we have our differences doesn't mean that our rights differ from one another. And because of that, we should respect everyone and be kind to one another. If we are fortunate enough to have access to necessities such as food, water, and shelter- we should open our doors to our brothers and sisters who are in need.

2. How can you share this message with others?

I can share this message by doing kind things. I believe that kindness creates endless ripples that last eternally.

3. How can you live the message of Fratelli Tutti?

Similar to my previous answer, I will continue doing good deeds to bring light to this dark world. I will be a living candle that guides people through darkness. And I will help light other candles who wish to be like me.
